THE NEW PROJECT

THE REASONS

What we define as the international development cooperation has witnessed various changes in recent years. What was once solely a bilateral framework between traditional actors and stakeholders now incorporates, together with civil society and multilateral institutions, the decisive and concrete involvement of private actors.

A result achieved by offering new areas of action to emerging countries: these become at the same time beneficiaries and drivers of a sustainable development that sees them as true protagonists.

What is CODEWAY EXPO?

CODEWAY EXPO is the one-of-a-kind platform created to bring together the most important players in the world of international cooperation under one roof.

The objective of the event is to provide tools to support and stimulate the role of enterprises both from the public and the private sector (public and private sector) to better cooperate within the Italian and European development aid strategy.

CODEWAY EXPO therefore moves on in its virtuous path devoted to innovation and promotes the support of responsible business actions, towards sustainable growth and fresh employment prospects for the young generations.

CODEWAY EXPO renews also for 2024 the collaboration with THEA - The European House Ambrosetti, scientific partner of the event, and with CNR, the National Research Council. The latter, thanks to its researchers will propose innovative products and solutions ready to be used, for the development of sustainable projects and operations in the target countries.

WHY EXHIBIT: the most effective participation

To access new business within high level international development programs.

To take part in special B2B programs and connect with buyers and potential international partners from target countries through a pre-arranged agenda.

To get in touch with international, national and local institutions plus with international stakeholders.

The participation as exhibitors also includes the organization of a dedicated presentation event, and/or of a workshop that will be promoted with the general program, an opportunity reserved to exhibitors.

To position your business at the center of the global market, open to new partnerships, projects and agreements.

In a word to be part of the community of the enterprises oriented vs. ethical, responsible, sustainable business – opening up towards those research and education organizations that develop models and projects of high grade technological innovation.

THE SCIENTIFIC PARTNERSHIP

CODEWAY EXPO, during its past edition counted with the patronage and the support of primary institutions at national and international level.

In this framework we are proud to confirm that the positive experience of CODEWAY EXPO starting from 2022 was remarkably and successfully influenced by the precious partnership established with The European House Ambrosetti (THEA), the renowned private strategic consulting firm, among the first independent at global level and surely top ranking in Europe.

The partnership with TEHA was reconfirmed within the CODEWAY EXPO INTERNATIONAL PREVIEW event held at MAECI of November 14, 2023 – with the organization of a special event focused on the analysis, study and identification of guidelines that can introduce a stronger presence of Italian SMEs within the development projects and initiatives promoted by Italian institutions. A study referred to the wider panorama of the projects originating from MAECI, AICS and from the system of territorial institutions involved in development activities towards the countries identified by the of Italian Cooperation.

IN COLLABORATION WITH

CODEWAY EXPO is part of the EEN (Enterprise Europe Network) business-to-business program.

All participants of CODEWAY EXPO will have the possibility to sign up for the one full day of meeting program taking place during the event. The EEN B2B event under the name of B4C – BUSINESS FOR COOPERATION allows the organization of the agenda through the B2MATCH platform, a user-friendly tool that enables participants to select counterparts and schedule their own meetings in autonomy, planning them in advance with potential partners in the development sector.

La Piattaforma B2MATCH offrirà la possibilità per le community europee dell'Impresa, della Ricerca, alle ONG, di creare incontri, esplorare progetti, opportunità e marketplace tra i più diversi, a livello europeo e internazionale.

Il sistema delle reti messe a disposizione dagli attori che concorrono al progetto EEN potrà interagire con il mondo dei «tradizionali» protagonisti che interpretano sviluppo e innovazione, sostenibilità e transizione in chiave SDGs, questa interazione sarà un elemento di assoluta novità nel contesto di riferimento.

EXTRA EXPOSURE, EXTRA INNOVATION

OPEN TO ALL: THE NEW CODEWAY PLATFORM FOR THE DEVELOPMENT ACTORS

The new CODEWAY EXPO platform will accompany participants through the stages leading up to the May 2024 event with the publication of useful preparatory media content:

- The PODCAST program:

It will be a short guide on how to approach or assist companies in the implementation of international cooperation projects, with authoritative interventions from important institutions like MAECI, AICS, CDP, and or from enterprises, NGOs and the press.

- Social media

The new CODEWAY EXPO platform is created to ingenerate a broadening in the event's community, with special social media tools engaging in communication activities to be carried out before, during and after the exhibition, edition after edition.

- Contests and Awards

CODEWAY EXPO will launch awards and contests aimed at significant categories of users and development actors. Among these, a Special Award to reward the best for-profit cooperation projects.
